

Objective:

To establish a career in TV/film direction primarily in dramatic work with a view to directing more features.

Bio:

Imran's first experience of the media came at the age of nine when he pushed through a camera scrum to meet Mohammed Ali as he arrived at Heathrow airport.

After studying Human Biology at Kings College London, Imran made the logical move into television. Working relentlessly for the next two years getting involved in everything he could until 1996 when he was employed at BSkyB as a trainee cameraman.

Working as a freelance cameraman since 2000, Imran bought his Steadicam in 2004 completing the SOA Steadicam Workshop in Chester Springs Pennsylvania in May 2005 taught by Garrett Brown.

2009 saw Imran chosen to direct thriller The Last Seven, featuring Tamer Hassan, Ronan Vibert and Danny Dyer. The film was released theatrically through Metrodome in 2010 and is available on DVD and Blu-Ray.

In 2011 Imran completed production on short films "Sound" and "Superheroes Anonymous" which are now on the festival circuit. 2012 Saw Imran progressing to the finals of B3's Talentlab, selected for his script "Coconut" which he is developing into a feature.

2016 saw shooting completed on "The Lost Loft" now in post. He is currently in early prep for two more shorts.
